- Discussion of Freshman Design Experience Proposal – Anthony Muscat (Dean, College of Engineering)
  - Document distributed via OneDrive
  - AM has been speaking to local businesses/companies about engineering grads, and employers have indicated that graduates need more applied learning experience
  - Engineering faculty interested in design experience classes
  - Students as partners, not customers
  - Proposed= 2 semester class. 2 credit course in 1st semester, 1 credit in spring semester
  - AR concerned about interest from students in 2/1 credit hour classes, and that there won't be 1 instructor per 24 students
  - GC= said SF is degree audit expert in terms of what issues we'd have with making degree audit work with having two courses that are both graded, perhaps same subj/numb, fulfill the FYS requirement on a student's audit
  - Classes would be graded pass/fail

- FYPF 102A : First-Year Seminar: Express Yourself! The Exploration of
